Eva Redman

Instructor

About me:

Eva Redman has been exploring movement since she started dancing along to the Nutcracker as a two-year-old. She began studying ballet formally at the age of four at her grandmother's studio in Hollywood, CA and has remained a dedicated student for the past ten years. (Yes, she's 14.)

Eva takes joy in many aspects of dance, including performance, wellness, personal growth, and teaching. She dances at DanceFX and Athens Dance Collective and is a member of the Synapse ballet company.
